

THE WEATHER.
For Boston and vicinity:
Fair to-night; Wednesday, partly cloudy to cloudy, probably fair; light northerly to westerly winds.
High water: 2:19 a. m.; 2:55 p. m.

HEARST BOSTON AMERICAN THE TWENTY-CENTURY NEWSPAPER

SPORTING Edition

VOL. 2—No. 64. 10 PAGES BOSTON, TUESDAY, MAY 23, 1905. 10 PAGES PRICE ONE CENT.

FINANCED BY MERCHANTS' TRUST COMPANY MANAGERS ACTRESS FORGIVEN BY MAN WHOSE CLOTHES SHE RUINED

The "Strouthead" Comedian Believes Another Man Induced Her to Do Destruction.

Reconciliation Followed Explanation, and the Prosecution
Was Discontinued.

Having withdrawn the charge of sex brutality against pretty Constance Whelan, a lingerie actress, now playing
at the Palace Theatre, Herbert Corthell, principal comedian with Robert Edison in
"Strouthead," today took occasion to "set
the matter straight," as he expressed it.

"Strouthead" said today, when seen by a Bostonian, that he had been told by Miss Whelan that she had been induced to do the thing which she had done in her dressing room, and that she had been very friendly to him.

"A Man Inspired It."
"Last Sunday night, I was out
with a girl, and I have a strong impression as to the identity, in my opinion,
and, though I said the girl was about eighteen years of age, she was not.
Her name was never given. A friend of mine told me that I had been told that she was about 25 years of age.
I am almost positive that the man
do the thing, and I am almost positive that the man do the thing, and I am almost positive that the man do the thing.

ACTOR HERBIE R. CORTHELL.

Reconciliation Followed Explanation, and the Prosecution
Was Discontinued.

Having withdrawn the charge of sex
brutality against pretty Constance Whelan, a lingerie actress, now playing
at the Palace Theatre, Herbert Corthell,
principal comedian with Robert Edison in
"Strouthead," today took occasion to "set
the matter straight," as he expressed it.

"Strouthead" said today, when seen by a Bostonian, that he had been told by Miss Whelan that she had been induced
to do the thing which she had done in her dressing room, and that she had been very friendly to him.

"A Man Inspired It."
"Last Sunday night, I was out
with a girl, and I have a strong
impression as to the identity, in my opinion,
and, though I said the girl was about
eighteen years of age, she was not.
Her name was never given. A friend of mine told me that I had been told
that she was about 25 years of age.
I am almost positive that the man
do the thing, and I am almost positive
that the man do the thing, and I am
almost positive that the man do the thing.

TENNEVITES DON'T FEAR THE FRISKY PIRATES

PITTSBURGERS IN TOWN TO TRY TO MAKE TROU-BLE FOR HUB TEAM.

Special to the Boston American.
NATIONAL LEAGUE GROUND, Boston, May 22.—With the frisky city pirates, the Tennessee team, in the first round of the home series, they were the first to make a move.
The Tennessee team, in the first round of the home series, they were the first to make a move.

Ready for Hard Battle.
Although the Pirates appeared angry over the Tenney bunch did not fear them, as they faced the tough game for fame.

BOXER BARLY HELD BOY OF 16 HURT IN DOUBT AS RUNAWAY

PAWTKENT, R. I., May 23.—At the reception tendered by the local press of the friends, Miss Barly, of Providence, and Fred Smith of Berkeley were the chief guests.
The reception was held at the Providence Hotel, and was attended by a large number of friends.
The reception was held at the Providence Hotel, and was attended by a large number of friends.

BOSTON BOYS WIN BROKER MORRIS RESTORED.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A. G. Morris, a well-known broker, was suspended for failing to make differences on the Commodity Stock Exchange, has paid up in full and has been reinstated.

GOVERNOR'S VETO IS OVERRODDEN BY HOUSE

NATICK BONDING BILL BECOMES LAW DE-SPITE OBJECTIONS OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

By the overwhelming vote of 148 to 30, the House of Representatives today passed over Governor Lincoln's veto the bill which grants the town of Natick the right to appropriate money for the purpose of constructing a new building.
The bill was introduced by Mr. McManis of Natick, and was passed by a vote of 148 to 30.
The bill was introduced by Mr. McManis of Natick, and was passed by a vote of 148 to 30.

JAPS LAUNCH BATTLE HOSTS IN MANCHURIA

LONDON, May 23.—An offensive move went along the main frontier line in Manchuria, Japan has launched by the Japanese,
according to a Paris dispatch.
The Japanese have launched by the Japanese,
according to a Paris dispatch.

PARIS RUMOR SAYS ROJESTVENSKY, CZAR'S ADMIRAL, IS DEAD

PARIS, May 23.—A rumor has been spread according to a report received from French bankers here.
The rumor is that the commander-in-chief of the Russian navy in Far Eastern waters, Admiral Rojestvensky, has been killed in action.

Millions in "Bad Loans" Responsible, It Is Claimed, for the Closing of Financial Con- cern in New York—Many of Its Securities Reported Worthless.

NEW YORK, May 23.—In an official statement by Jacob L. Phillips, president of the Merchants' Trust Company, following its suspension to-day, and the appointment of Douglas Robinson, a brother-in-law of President Roosevelt, and the New York Trust Company as receivers, he declared that the collapse of the concern had been caused by the making of loans to the amount of more than $2,000,000 on unmarketable securities.

"We have been repeatedly assured since I took office," said President Phillips, "that these securities are worth almost if not quite the entire amount of the loans, but all efforts to realize on them have up to this time failed."

SECURITIES INVOLVED.

These securities were first mortgaged 5 per cent. bonds of the Hudson Valley Railway Company and Rutland, Vt., properties, including street railways, gas and electric light plants. An offer of $1,000,000 for securities of the Hudson Valley Railway Company, on which $2,000,000 was due, was made to the directors during a serious illness of President Phillips, and was refused by them.

PLACING RESPONSIBILITY.

In a statement made publicly by Attorney General J. M. McKim, and President Phillips, counsel for the company, they declared that responsibility for these loans rested with a small group of directors, and that the company was not responsible for them.

NO EFFECT ON BANKS.

A statement was made by the president of the National Bank, who asked the result of the failure would be on the financial condition of the city, and the closing of the Merchants' Trust Company.

IN OFFICE SINCE JANUARY.

In his statement this afternoon President Phillips said:
"I have been president only since January."

RECEIVERS APPOINTED.

Attorney General J. M. McKim, and President Phillips, counsel for the company, they declared that responsibility for these loans rested with a small group of directors, and that the company was not responsible for them.

Boston American Home Magazine

HOW LOVE LICHENS THE HOME Do Women Enjoy Life As Much as Men Do?

Beatrice Fairfax Shows How Easily the Burden of Matrimonial Responsibilities Is Drawn by the Young Married Couple When Cupid Drives the Chariot

"We've lived together now for forty years. And if that's even a day, it's much. There isn't a day I don't love him. As I'd swap for my dear old 'dutch'."

—Carter Song.

COMING home from the theatre the other evening I sat opposite a pair of lovers. Neither could have been under seventy. He was a gallant old gentleman, with white hair, a ruddy cheek and upright carriage. She was the dearest little old lady imaginable. Her hair was snow white and clustered neatly around her sweet face. It was as delicately tinted as an apple blossom.

The old gentleman's tender care and protection of her were beautiful to see. No young love's ecstatic heart could have declared more gallantly and attention than did he, and no girl could have looked more lovingly at her lover's old countenance than did she. They talked easily for hours, and their eyes closed and their heads nodded.

She smiled at him sleepily, and then dropped her head on his shoulder, and slept comfortably the rest of the journey. I do not know what her life has been—perhaps she has had the same old story to tell. But one thing I do know, and that is that they have had love to sweeten all life's bitterness and intensify its joys. Each has discovered the precious secret of how to love the other's love. Many a young wife has not been able to keep her love for her husband as long as this old couple.

They were seated in the front of the car. The old gentleman's tender care and protection of her were beautiful to see. No young love's ecstatic heart could have declared more gallantly and attention than did he, and no girl could have looked more lovingly at her lover's old countenance than did she. They talked easily for hours, and their eyes closed and their heads nodded. She smiled at him sleepily, and then dropped her head on his shoulder, and slept comfortably the rest of the journey. I do not know what her life has been—perhaps she has had the same old story to tell. But one thing I do know, and that is that they have had love to sweeten all life's bitterness and intensify its joys. Each has discovered the precious secret of how to love the other's love. Many a young wife has not been able to keep her love for her husband as long as this old couple.

They were seated in the front of the car. The old gentleman's tender care and protection of her were beautiful to see. No young love's ecstatic heart could have declared more gallantly and attention than did he, and no girl could have looked more lovingly at her lover's old countenance than did she. They talked easily for hours, and their eyes closed and their heads nodded. She smiled at him sleepily, and then dropped her head on his shoulder, and slept comfortably the rest of the journey. I do not know what her life has been—perhaps she has had the same old story to tell. But one thing I do know, and that is that they have had love to sweeten all life's bitterness and intensify its joys. Each has discovered the precious secret of how to love the other's love. Many a young wife has not been able to keep her love for her husband as long as this old couple.

They were seated in the front of the car. The old gentleman's tender care and protection of her were beautiful to see. No young love's ecstatic heart could have declared more gallantly and attention than did he, and no girl could have looked more lovingly at her lover's old countenance than did she. They talked easily for hours, and their eyes closed and their heads nodded. She smiled at him sleepily, and then dropped her head on his shoulder, and slept comfortably the rest of the journey. I do not know what her life has been—perhaps she has had the same old story to tell. But one thing I do know, and that is that they have had love to sweeten all life's bitterness and intensify its joys. Each has discovered the precious secret of how to love the other's love. Many a young wife has not been able to keep her love for her husband as long as this old couple.

They were seated in the front of the car. The old gentleman's tender care and protection of her were beautiful to see. No young love's ecstatic heart could have declared more gallantly and attention than did he, and no girl could have looked more lovingly at her lover's old countenance than did she. They talked easily for hours, and their eyes closed and their heads nodded. She smiled at him sleepily, and then dropped her head on his shoulder, and slept comfortably the rest of the journey. I do not know what her life has been—perhaps she has had the same old story to tell. But one thing I do know, and that is that they have had love to sweeten all life's bitterness and intensify its joys. Each has discovered the precious secret of how to love the other's love. Many a young wife has not been able to keep her love for her husband as long as this old couple.

They were seated in the front of the car. The old gentleman's tender care and protection of her were beautiful to see. No young love's ecstatic heart could have declared more gallantly and attention than did he, and no girl could have looked more lovingly at her lover's old countenance than did she. They talked easily for hours, and their eyes closed and their heads nodded. She smiled at him sleepily, and then dropped her head on his shoulder, and slept comfortably the rest of the journey. I do not know what her life has been—perhaps she has had the same old story to tell. But one thing I do know, and that is that they have had love to sweeten all life's bitterness and intensify its joys. Each has discovered the precious secret of how to love the other's love. Many a young wife has not been able to keep her love for her husband as long as this old couple.

They were seated in the front of the car. The old gentleman's tender care and protection of her were beautiful to see. No young love's ecstatic heart could have declared more gallantly and attention than did he, and no girl could have looked more lovingly at her lover's old countenance than did she. They talked easily for hours, and their eyes closed and their heads nodded. She smiled at him sleepily, and then dropped her head on his shoulder, and slept comfortably the rest of the journey. I do not know what her life has been—perhaps she has had the same old story to tell. But one thing I do know, and that is that they have had love to sweeten all life's bitterness and intensify its joys. Each has discovered the precious secret of how to love the other's love. Many a young wife has not been able to keep her love for her husband as long as this old couple.

They were seated in the front of the car. The old gentleman's tender care and protection of her were beautiful to see. No young love's ecstatic heart could have declared more gallantly and attention than did he, and no girl could have looked more lovingly at her lover's old countenance than did she. They talked easily for hours, and their eyes closed and their heads nodded. She smiled at him sleepily, and then dropped her head on his shoulder, and slept comfortably the rest of the journey. I do not know what her life has been—perhaps she has had the same old story to tell. But one thing I do know, and that is that they have had love to sweeten all life's bitterness and intensify its joys. Each has discovered the precious secret of how to love the other's love. Many a young wife has not been able to keep her love for her husband as long as this old couple.

MATRIMONIAL RESPONSIBILITIES

JOHNSTON

VALUABLE RECIPES FOR THE STRAWBERRY SEASON

NOW that the season for strawberries is here, and they will soon be procurable at a price within reach of almost everyone's pocketbook, some different ways of serving them will be useful to those who make good use of the strawberry cake in the pride of every household. This recipe may be safely recommended as the simplest and best.

SHORTCAKE
Steam two quarts of boiled berries. Sweeten them to taste and mix slightly with a wooden spoon. To make

BAVARIAN CREAM
One quart of strawberries, one quart of cream, one half cup of sugar, one half cup of gelatin, one half cup of water. Soak the gelatin in the water for two hours. Beat the cream and sugar together and add the gelatin. Beat until thick.

STRAWBERRY SPONGE
Soak half a package of sponge in one quart of strawberries, and add one half cup of sugar. Beat until thick.

STRAWBERRY ICE CREAM
One quart of cream, one quart of strawberries, one half cup of sugar, one half cup of gelatin, one half cup of water. Soak the gelatin in the water for two hours. Beat the cream and sugar together and add the gelatin. Beat until thick.

STRAWBERRY JELLY
Three pints of ripe strawberries, one box of gelatin, a pint of sugar, one half cup of water. Soak the gelatin in the water for two hours. Beat the strawberries and sugar together and add the gelatin. Beat until thick.

SWEET SHORTCAKE
Three quarts of strawberries, one quart of cream, one half cup of sugar, one half cup of gelatin, one half cup of water. Soak the gelatin in the water for two hours. Beat the cream and sugar together and add the gelatin. Beat until thick.

STRAWBERRY PIE
Line a deep pie dish with good plain pastry. Fill with strawberries and sugar. Bake in a hot oven for one hour.

SCARLETT LIES By X and Z Authors of "Married to Mystery"

CHAPTER LXXXII
The Mystification of Gerrard.
"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

"It is that precisely what she said," said the man who had been talking to her. "It is that precisely what she said."

Hearst's Boston American Pattern

A TRIM SAILOR SUIT

No. 2515. The accompanying sketch shows a suit for the small but composed of two pieces, a jacket and a pair of trousers. The jacket has a notched lapel and a single-breasted front. The trousers have a straight leg and a single-breasted front.

No. 2516. The accompanying sketch shows a suit for the small but composed of two pieces, a jacket and a pair of trousers. The jacket has a notched lapel and a single-breasted front. The trousers have a straight leg and a single-breasted front.

No. 2517. The accompanying sketch shows a suit for the small but composed of two pieces, a jacket and a pair of trousers. The jacket has a notched lapel and a single-breasted front. The trousers have a straight leg and a single-breasted front.

